INTRODUCTION

The name الرحيم (Ar-Rahīm), "The Merciful," encapsulates the profound and limitless compassion of Allah in Islam. It goes beyond ordinary kindness, expressing a divine, all-encompassing mercy that is inherent to Allah's nature. Ar-Rahīm signifies a mercy that is extended to all of creation, encompassing believers and non-believers alike.

This attribute emphasizes the forgiving and nurturing nature of Allah, highlighting His willingness to pardon, guide, and support those who seek His mercy. It also implies a continuous, unending mercy that is not restricted by human limitations. Ar-Rahīm is a source of solace and hope for believers, reassuring them that, no matter the circumstances, Allah's mercy is ever-present and accessible to those who turn to Him in repentance and gratitude.
