Wandering through the streets of Beirut is a journey through time, where the city's rich history and vibrant culture seamlessly blend into a tapestry of nostalgia. The narrow alleyways of the old town, with their weathered facades and ornate balconies, whisper tales of a bygone era. As the aroma of traditional Lebanese cuisine wafts through the air, the bustling markets evoke memories of a time when the city was a thriving cultural crossroads. The echoes of conversations in the buzzing cafes, the rhythmic sounds of street musicians, and the vibrant street art all contribute to the mosaic of memories that make Beirut a city steeped in nostalgia. Amidst the juxtaposition of ancient ruins and modern architecture, the streets of Beirut tell a story of resilience, celebrating the enduring spirit of a city that has weathered storms and embraced change while holding on to the echoes of its storied past.

KEYTHEMES

Contrast of

● TRADITION & MODERNITY

The traditional houses of Beirut against the backdrop of modern skyscrapers and contemporary developments. This stark visual dichotomy will serve as a powerful reminder of the city's evolving identity.

● EMOTIONAL RESONANCE

The illustrations will aim to evoke a sense of nostalgia and pride, fostering a deep emotional connection to the traditional houses. By portraying the everyday life within these homes, the series will invite viewers to reflect on the shared memories and experiences tied to these architectural wonders.

● TIMELESS ELEGANCE

Emphasize the unique aesthetic and architectural features of traditional houses, capturing the intricate details that make them stand out. The focus will be on conveying the enduring elegance that has weathered the tests of time.

● CULTURAL NARRATIVES

Through visual storytelling, the series will explore the cultural narratives embedded in these houses. From the vibrant colors of the traditional tiles to the interconnectedness of courtyard spaces, each illustration will convey the rich cultural tapestry of Beirut's architectural history.

The series will consist of a collection of high-quality digital illustrations, each carefully crafted to bring out the unique character of individual houses. The use of vibrant colors, intricate details, and thoughtful compositions will contribute to a visually striking and emotionally evocative narrative.

"بيوت تيفول" seeks not only to capture the physical beauty of Beirut's traditional houses but also to immortalize the emotional resonance they hold for the city and its people. Through this visual journey, the series aims to inspire a collective appreciation for the preservation of cultural heritage in the face of urban transformation.
